C. J. Duke Reveals Plans For Installing Dial Phones Dormitories To Have Floor Service; College Estimates Cost At $6,000

Installation of dial telephones in dormitories with the main switchboard located on the first floor of Marshall-Wythe hall should be completed by next September, according to Charles J. Duke, bursar.

Recent investigation by college authorities after student complaint of the present phone system showed that the telephone equipment will be available in the near future. "Dial phones will be placed on each floor of all dormitories and calls will be placed directly to the floor desired," stated Mr. Duke.

Aid To Students

Yearly expense for the project will amount to over $6,000. "If all goes as planned, however," Mr. Duke concluded, "I'm sure this added convenience will be of great aid to the students."

Provisions for long-distance phone calls and calls made after the college switchboard closes at around 9:30 p. m. are also being made.

Action on the college telephone system followed a vote by Women Students' Cooperative Government association on Feb. 4 to assume financial responsibility for maintenance of an additional telephone for each of the large women's dormitories. The phones were to be used for outgoing and incoming local calls and only incoming long distance calls.

Investigation by Laurie Pritchard, FLAT HAT columnist, precipitated the WSCGA vote. Lora-beth Moore, FLAT HAT editor, had previously interviewed local telephone company officials on the subject.

Choir Will Give Concert In March

Members of the William and Mary Chapel Choir will give a concert on Tuesday and Wednesday, Mar. 18 and 19, in Phi Beta Kappa hall at 8 p. m.

Selections to be sung by the Choir, under the direction of Carl A. Fehr, will include "Hail Gladdening Light" (for double choir) by Wood, "Miserere Mei" by Byrd, "Agnus Dei" by Morley, "Jesus, Priceless Treasure" by Bach, "Madame Jeanette" by Murray, "O! Man River" by Kern, "Sing We and Chant It," "Fire, Fire My Heart."

"My Bonny Lass She Smileth" by Morley, "Sunrise" by Taneyef, "A June Moonrise" by De Lamar-ter, "Listen to the Lambs" by Dett, "Allelujah, Amen" by Handel, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, "Lost in the Night" and "Beautiful Saviour" by Christiansen, and "A Mighty Fortress Is our God" by Luther.

Theatre Group Enters Last Week Of Rehearsal

By RONALD KING

The William and Mary Players are now in their final week of rehearsal for William Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors," which will be unveiled at Phi Beta Kappa hall on the nights of Mar. 12, 13 and 14.

The classic comedy is concerned with the confusion which inevitably arises from the existence of two sets of twins. The double duet, having been separated at an early age, are totally unacquainted. Each set of twins bears the same names as the other, to add to the complexity of the situation. There is Antipholus of Ephesus and his slave, Dromio. Antipholus of Syracuse has his Dromio, too. The townspeople, as well as the twins, themselves, experience many a mad moment before all this is explained in the final act of the play.

Mr. Shakespeare lifted the plot of Plautus' "Menaechmi" for his "Comedy of Errors." The Roman author utilized one set of twins in his comedy, and it remained for the Bard to create an even more magnificent situation with the addition of a second pair. Shakespeare discarded some of Plautus' ideas, elaborated on others, and added a few of his own. That the man from Stratford has surpassed his predecessor is generally acknowledged.

On Friday of this week, the Players will hold the first of four dress rehearsals. Costumes are expected to arrive prior to these grand sessions, so that the costume crews will have an opportunity to make alterations before the Players don their Elizabethan attire.

The program for "Comedy of Errors" will be quite distinctive. Pat Jones, a student in the Fine Arts department, has fashioned an intricate wood-cut, and the cover of the program will bear the impression of her work. The advertising postcards, which the Theatre sends to patrons for each play, will also be unusual. Roger Sherman, technician, has delineated the shadow of twins on each card, apropos of the play.

Miss Althea Hunt, director of the William and Mary Theatre, has held rehearsals of the entire play every night this week. She has expressed satisfaction at the performance of her Players, but like all directors, refuses to spout superlatives at this point.

Roger Sherman is waiting patiently for Vronsky and Babin to sound their last chords. The set is almost entirely completed, and once the piano concert is done, Mr. Sherman and his crews will begin to erect a replica of an Elizabethan theatre on the Phi Beta Kappa stage.

Miss Hunt has received several more notes of acceptance from principals and instructors in various parts of Virginia. The director had invited these educators and their students to attend the last performance of "Comedy of Errors." The Theatre, in addition, has received mail orders for blocks of tickets from several civic and social groups in and around Williamsburg. Students and other patrons may attend any of the

Women To Elect WSCG Officers In March Ballots

Nominations for president, vice-president and treasurer of the WSCGA and for the two junior members of the Honor council will be made at the next meeting of WSCGA, on Monday, Mar. 10. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p. m. instead of the usual hour of 7 p. m.

The Senior Nominating committee will nominate two women for each office with the exception of president. These nominations will be posted before the meeting and there will be further nominations from the floor. The nominees for president must be juniors, those for vice-president, sophomores, and those for treasurer, freshmen.

Elections will be held on the following Wednesday in the women's dormitories.

Nominations In March

Nominations for WSCGA offices take place annually during three weeks in March. At the second meeting those officers nominated will be chairman of Honor committee, chairman of Judicial committee, secretary of Executive council, secretary of Judicial committee, junior member of Judicial committee and sophomore member of Honor committee.

Those nominated at the third meeting will be two senior members of Honor committee, sophomore member of Judicial committee, two representatives-at-large to the Executive council, and two representatives-at-large to the Judicial committee.

Installation of all new officers will take place at the April WSCGA meeting, which will be held on the first Monday after spring vacation.

Gazette Presents Editorial, Features

The Alumni Gazette for March, containing an editorial entitled "What's Wrong With William and Mary?" has been sent to subscribers, as announced by Charles P. McCurdy, executive secretary of the Alumni association and editor of the magazine.

In the editorial McCurdy attributes the crises through which the college has passed in recent years to "lack of good, sound thinking on the part of the Board of Visitors, the administration, the faculty, the students and the alumni." He criticizes the indifference of the alumni, the students' attitude toward college rulings, legislation passed by the Board of Visitors "too frequently without sufficient study or investigation," and concludes with, "Many are the voices of counsel. We need more voices of vision."

Other Special Features

Also included in the Gazette are special features on the adoption of the lodge system by fraternities, the amphitheater now being built near Lake Matoaka, the history of the William and Mary music groups under the direction of Carl A. Fehr, and a review of 34 years of William and Mary football.

Dance Will Feature Snow Theme Complete With Huge Sled, Moonlight

Advance sale of tickets for the Mid-Winter dance will end tomorrow, according to Bert Rance, publicity chairman. The dance, to be held Friday, Mar. 7, in Blow Gymnasium, will feature Bobby Byrne and his orchestra. Bert also disclosed that the theme for decorations at the dance will be a snow scene.

Tickets are being sold on the stage of the small dining hall, from 12 noon to 1 p. m. and from 5 to 6 p. m., Bert Rance said, and may also be obtained from any of the President's Aides. Bob Jacobs and Howie Hyle are co-chairmen of the ticket sale. Bert urged all students to buy tickets today or tomorrow, pointing out that the price rises from $3.50 to $4.50 after tomorrow.

Posters Circulated

Advertising for the dance will reach its peak tomorrow. Posters and handbills featuring pictures of Byrne and his featured vocalists, Karen Rich and Pat Terry, have been posted conspicuously all over the campus and town. A huge banner at the college entrance reminds procrastinating students to hurry. Girl friends have been dropping broad hints to males who have not yet committed themselves. A sign in the local florist shop admonishes college men to place their orders for corsages for the dance early. What the sponsors hope will be the climatic bit of pressure will be applied today and tomorrow, in the form of advertising stunts in the large dining hall.

Snow Scene

A snow theme will be followed in decorating Blow Gymnasium for the dance, Rance revealed. The bandstand will resemble a huge sled, and the nearby bleachers will be disguised as a snowbank. Giant snowmen will contribute to the wintry effect. The walls and ceiling of the small gymnasium will be almost entirely covered with white, and spotlights will be employed to create the effect of moonlight on snow. Oversized snowballs will appear menacingly in the air.

In case the snow scene is too convincing, the decorations committee plans to construct an equally realistic fireplace in the lounge. Don Ream is chairman of the committee. Other members include: Aubrey Mason, Tut Bartzan, Tom Mikula, Jack Bellis, Jack Hoey and Bren Macken.

Bobby Byrne, according to the latest publicity releases, has just completed a return engagement at Roseland Ballroom in New York City. While at Roseland, the band was featured on a number of major network broadcasts.

College To Raise Dorm Rent Rates

In accordance with the action of the Board of Visitors of the college at a meeting on Feb. 8, higher rates on dormitory rooms for the session 1947-48 have been established. The rates were changed because of an increased rise in maintenance and cost according to Charles J. Duke, bursar.

Room rents in the veterans' dormitories, established by the Federal Public Housing Authority, will not be increased. "We even hope," stated Mr. Duke, "that the rates may be decreased by the opening date of next fall's session."

Men's Dormitories

Rooms having increased rates in men's dormitories are listed below.

Old Dominion hall: Large double room, without bath, $70.00; small double room, without bath, $45.00; corner double room, connecting bath, $90.00; large double room, connecting bath, $85.00.

Monroe hall: Corner double room, connecting bath, $90.00; See ROOM PRICE, Page 10

Colleges To Participate At W-M In Invitational Debate Tournament

Question For Debate

The question to be debated will be: "Resolved: That labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." Winners of the three rounds of debates held on Friday afternoon will determine how the teams will be arranged for the two elimination rounds on Saturday morning. The final championship debate will be held at 11 a. m. on Saturday morning.

"The student body and citizens of Williamsburg are cordially invited to attend any of the debates or addresses," Charles stated. Schedules of the debates will be publicized later.

William and Mary's invitational debate tournament, sponsored by the college's debate council, will be held on Friday and Saturday, Mar. 14 and 15, according to Charles Summer, Jr., chairman of the tournament committee.

Eleven schools will participate in the tournament and 45 debates will be held. The ten schools taking part, besides William and Mary, are the University of Florida, University of South Carolina, University of Indiana, University of Virginia, University of Richmond, University of North Carolina, Georgetown University, Swarthmore College, Lynchburg College, and the United States Military Academy.

Whether we realize it or not, the dance band is essential to most of the organized social life on this campus, and right now the band is having trouble even existing. The difficulty arises from the lack of place to practice, which is essential to any dance band.

“DUTCH” SCHULTZ, leader, reports that the college has cooperated to the extent of a two-hour-a-week period in the music department band room, which, incidentally, must suffice for most of the other musical activities at the college. At no other time is there a place available for the band to get together for practices. This is true also for any individual practices that members would like to have.

The band is not a recognized part of the music department and any time they do have in the band room is out of the kindness of that department's heart. ALAN C. STEWART has been assisting them, too — also out of the kindness of his heart.

Early this year the administration was approached on the subject of a place for the dance band to practice. At this time the most logical place on campus, i. e., the small cafeteria, was suggested. Nothing has been done about it. The small cafeteria has all the requirements for practices: a piano, stage, and a room where instruments could be kept. If the cafeteria is to be for student use, why don't we make a start by letting the band members practice there on afternoons when it is not used for anything else?

The band has been clamoring for official recognition from the music department, but according to Mr. STEWART that would not alleviate the difficulty since the only available place in the “music building” is in use every afternoon and evening. The only solution to the problem must come from the administration if we are to avoid having recorded music at Saturday night dances, and Friday night fraternity and sorority dances.

Again, we say, how about the small cafeteria? ?

Alumni Editorial

To the editor:

I wish to call attention to the editorial entitled “What's Wrong with William and Mary” in the current (March, 1947) issue of the Alumni Gazette. I sincerely believe that EVERY STUDENT, man or woman, veteran or non-veteran, fraternity or non-fraternity, should READ THIS EDITORIAL, and I mean READ IT, AND TAKE IT TO HEART! !

I believe that this editorial is the most penetrating, understanding, critical yet absolutely accurate article that has ever been written about OUR ALMA MATER in modern decades, with all due respect for other searching reports published by Presidents Chandler, Bryan or Pomfret. This editorial is CRUEL in its frankness, and yet the status of the College, its present student body, faculty, administration, Board of Visitors, and Alumni, is ABSOLUTELY ACCURATE. I am informed that the author of the editorial has had access to unimpeachable sources of information, and years of direct experience with the College itself and the Society of the Alumni.

It is appalling to me that William and Mary, with 14,000 living alumni, could only raise $3,800 in the 1947 Charter Day Gifts fund. Other colleges, much smaller and less renowned, raise multiples of this figure annually. Why are the William and Mary alumni so Complacent about the needs and interests of Alma Mater, EXCEPT FOR ATHLETICS?

The alumni of a college are loyal to and proud of their Alma Mater only to the extent that they were loyal to and proud of their Alma Mater WHILE they were UNDERGRADUATES, on the campus. What makes Yale or Amherst men so proud of their schools, or Vassar or Smith girls so loyal to theirs? The factor (as I see it) is their happiness and pride in their respective schools, which was inculcated in them WHILE THEY WERE STUDENTS.

It is a notorious fact that Virginia students at William and Mary have a tendency to KNOCK the College whenever it is compared with other institutions in the State. I can assert this to be true on the basis of my own observations since I entered the College as a freshman in 1939. On the other hand, most Northern and Western students believe, as I sincerely do, that William and Mary is one of the finest co-educational institutions of its kind in the nation, ranking with such excellent colleges as Swarthmore, Oberlin, Middlebury, Rollins, and others of equal calibre. I also know for a fact (again based on personal knowledge) that, when I was in attendance at two other large universities (one in the “Ivy League,” the other a Western state university), students and professors always told me what a fine school the considered William and Mary to be.

I sincerely wish there was more effort to ingrain a sense of pride in the students of William and Mary. True, the College has had many glaring difficulties, as to its postwar student-body, fraternities, faculty salaries and dissatisfaction, and big-time football and its problems. I think that if everyone would try to minimize these internal schisms and concentrate on building a modern academic tradition as great as William and Mary's ancient academic traditions, amazing progress could be achieved in a relatively short period of time.

Sincerely,
Ira B. Dworkin, B. A. '43

Joining The Show

WANTED: dancers, singers, actors, actresses, and anyone who enjoys making a fool of himself. If we could print musical notes on this page, we'd delight in printing the above as a singing commercial. But since we can't, we'll be forced to resort to the Hucksters' method. JOIN THE SHOW! We suggest that everyone jump aboard the super-chief tomorrow evening and journey to the Hollywood of Williamsburg—Phi Beta Kappa Hall for tryouts. . . . for what? THE VARSITY SHOW! We know there will be certain people who will come (those who know they have talent) but we're suggesting that some of the others of us (who doubtful about our talents) swallow our pride and give the show a quick whirl. JOIN THE SHOW!

Back in '42 when the Backdrop Club presented “Take a Deep Breath” the director of the show was fortunate enough to know where talent lay. But, today Ken McGinn who is directing the 1947 show has been away for several years, and, naturally, he doesn't have all the talent catalogued. We urge everybody to give Ken a break and show up tomorrow night. We can only imagine what fun the troupe will have during the next couple of months but if past shows are any indication, we predict one long laugh from now until May. So—JOIN THE SHOW!

If you have a sense of humor, come and share it. If you don't have a sense of humor, come and acquire one. Most of all—JOIN THE SHOW! Don't forget—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 8 p. m. in PHI BETA KAPPA!

EAT YOUR CARROTS:

In reply to last week's query, “What shall we write about?” the bunk offered this suggestion. What about the mouth and skin diseases that are going around campus? So we stuck our heads in on the biology lab yesterday and talked to Miss Blagk, college health officer. The answer to our questions is that although nutritional deficiency is not the cause of trench mouth and some of the other maladies which are prevalent on campus, such a deficiency tends to open the path for such bacteria to take hold. Moral: Eat three meals a day and make an effort to balance the day's diet. College students have a tendency to eat too many starches and not enough proteins and green vegetables. Since we have the opportunity to select our own meals, we have to assume the responsibility of feeding ourselves properly. We advocate plenty of green salads and vegetables and . . . it may be hard to do . . . regularity in eating breakfast.

Woolley Points Out Republican

Lack Of Leadership?

No less a source than the erudite New York Herald Tribune has of late been editorializing on the lack of leadership and unity in the Senate's Republican majority. It might seem that the time for critical comment is hardly here but the mistakes have been made.

Two of the most pronounced of Midwestern mediocrities, Senators Brooks of Illinois and Butler of Nebraska have come out for a renewal of the ancient tariff walls, largely at the behest of Bert McCormick, a Chicago journalist.

Balking at these proposals, Michigan's Senator Vandenberg has engendered the made-to-order hatred and scorn of the Chicago Tribune's editorial writers and cartoonists.

SENATE SPLIT

Joe Ball, Republican Senator from Minnesota, is finding it tough sledding despite the heavy winter snows. Back in '44, Ball was a GOP expert on Foreign Affairs and resultingly enraged the Old Guard by supporting a fourth term. Diligently attempting to regain the good graces, Ball has attacked Labor in such forceful manner as to become the favorite son of the N. A. M. On Ball's program, however, a major split has developed in the Senate. Taft has broken with the Minnesotan. Responsibility for labor legislation is shifting to the more able hands of N. Y.'s Senator Ives, former Dean of Cornell's Labor school, and Senator Morse of Oregon. Perhaps Ball had better begin mending political fences in his own back yard lest he go back to newspaper reporting in '48.

Whatever the outcome, Robert Taft's role in the Lillienthal row will diminish the Ohioan's national prestige which Robert Luce publications have been so painstakingly building. Then there is Wherry of Nebraska, formerly a cattle raiser, embalmer, used-car dealer, always a small time politician and now a dispatcher for R. A. Taft, Ltd.

INSURGENT BLOC

Only important Republican to gain prestige of late is Vandenberg. Others who are realizing the qualities and virtues of statesmanship are New Englanders Aiken, Tobey, Lodge and Saltonstall, and far-westerner Morse. These along with freshman Cooper of Kentucky, Flanders of Vermont and Ives, plus longtime maverick Langer of North Dakota, may form an insurgent bloc to further harass the legislation of Taft, Wherry and White.

Such a unity would strengthen the hand of possible presidential nominee Leverett Saltonstall. A longtime public servant of the highest calibre, Saltonstall would swing heavy labor and independent vote in the Republican column. With a legislative and executive background that sets him ahead of some of the more publicized GOP possibilities, Saltonstall possesses the often overlooked qualities of humanitarianism and courage that are so lacking in the would-be statesmen of the day.

Letter Urges Students Show

Consideration For Laundry

To The Editor:

Quite a lot of criticism has been directed by students around and about the campus toward the college laundry. The criticism has reached its unkindest height in the feature by Fletcher Cox, in which he takes very obvious digs at everything and everyone connected with the laundry.

Had Mr. Cox confined his criticism to machinery, and had not involved personalities, it would undoubtedly have been fairly passable. However, his extreme lack of tact in calling the sorters “Tennessee Maulers” was regrettable, to say the least. Obviously, these sorters are neither from Tennessee nor are they maulers.

These people whom Mr. Cox slammed so mercilessly in his feature are doing a magnificent job of handling the laundry for 1700 students in a building and with machinery adequate only for the servicing of 1200 students. They are justifiably proud of this fact.

Buttons torn from shirts cannot be traced to the employees of the laundry. To the contrary, the fault lies in the machinery which, although designed for the work which it is performing, seems to contain inherent flaws which are impossible to overcome. Laying the wholesale button-ripping at the feet of the operators of the machines is juvenile and inconsiderate.

I hope that this explains the laundry's dilemma clearly enough so that other would-be humorists will not stoop to casting aspersions upon the perspicacity of the laundry employees.

Sincerely,
Name Withheld by Request.

Atkinson Adapts Stevenson Story

Clint Atkinson has adapted Robert Louis Stevenson's classic short story, Markheim, for radio presentation, and will direct and produce his adaptation for Radio club's weekly broadcast over Station WRNL, on Friday, Mar. 7.

Markheim, a powerful treatise of man's internal struggle, is especially suited for radio performance. Clint assisted by Laurie Pritchard, has not yet selected the six members of the cast, or the announcer. Music for the broadcast will be directed by Helen Fisher.

Last Friday night, the Radio club presented the Four Braves, local vocal quartet, in a program of popular songs. The Braves, who are Joe Brinkley, Ollie Amon, Bill Hux and Bill Williams, sang eight numbers. Ace Livick announced the show, with Ronald King in charge of production. John Daly flipped the dials in the engineer's booth.

Auditions were held last week for students who are interested in participating in the weekly broadcast. The auditions committee of the Radio club has announced that it will hold another such session in the near future for those who were unable to attend last week's try-outs.

Duo Piano Team Arrives Amid Rehearsal Shambles

By RONALD KING

Phi Beta Kappa hall looked rather shabby the afternoon of the concert. Scenery, nails, ladders, lumber and chairs surrounded the two grand pianos on stage. Your reporter, awaiting the arrival of Vronsky and Babin, mused over the possible reaction of the pianists when they viewed the disorder of the concert platform.

Duoists Appear

The doors at the rear of Phi Beta opened abruptly. A man and woman, both strikingly dark, called out. The reporter walked over to greet the pair, extended his hand to the gentleman, murmuring, "Very happy to meet you, Mr. Vronsky."

"My name is Babin," said Mr. Babin. "The lady, my wife, is Vronsky."

Off to a terrific start, the interviewer, seeking to gain confidence, informed the two that he was not the usual type of interviewer, in that he was looking for human interest material rather than stereotyped facts.

Madame Vronsky did not hesitate to answer, "Interviewers look for human interest to such an extent today that it would be a novelty to be asked for facts once in a while."

VICTOR BABIN

Several questions later, it was evident to the reporter that best results would be obtained from the male member of the family. Fate intervened as the stage crew arrived to arrange the stage for the concert. Vronsky withdrew to supervise the tactical maneuvers.

Victor Babin was a warm, genial person. As he spoke freely of the life and times of the duo, he revealed himself to be an artist who

Deans Announce Room Fees Due

Twenty-five dollars deposit for room reservations for the 1947-48 session is now payable at the auditor's office, John E. Hocutt, dean of men, and Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women, announced recently. Students planning to return to the college next September must pay this deposit before June 1, or rooms will not be reserved, the deans stated.

The deposit is applied on the Student's regular account and is refunded to those students cancelling their reservations on or before Aug. 1. Rooms will be assigned in the order of date of payment of deposit and except where a change from present assignments is requested, preference will be given in order of class seniority. Students wishing to reserve rooms they presently occupy may make the deposit prior to June 1.

Accommodations in the standard dormitories are insufficient to house the entire enrollment of men, and as a result, continued use will be made of the veterans' dormitories and other temporary housing structures.

Art Department Plans Exhibition

Watercolors by Jean Craig Jones and Alan D. Jones, Jr., will be exhibited by the Fine Arts department in the foyer of Phi Beta Kappa hall beginning on Mar. 12, with the opening of Comedy of Errors, and continuing for three weeks. The paintings were done by Mr. and Mrs. Jones in Mexico during the summer of 1946.

Mrs. Jones studied with Harding, Metzger, Garber, and Speight at the Pennsylvania Academy, and taught art at the Germantown Friend's school in Philadelphia. Her works have been exhibited at Washington, D. C., Department of the Interior, at Norfolk Museum, in private collections, and in Newport News, winning first prize in oil painting in the Peninsula Artist's Show in 1946.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. He studied under Arthur Charles and George Harding, and attended the Barnes Foundation.

Federals To Hear Helfrich's Report At Next Meeting

John Helfrich, William and Mary delegate to the convention of world government groups at Asheville, N. C., from Feb. 21 through 23, will report on the convention at the next meeting of the local chapter of Student Federalists, Inc., tomorrow.

The various organizations working for world federal government, who were represented at the convention, are the Student Federalists, Inc., the World Republic, the World Federalists, the Massachusetts committee for world Government, the Georgia Committee for World Government, and America United committee for World Government. Their plans are to merge into the united world federalists and to work for the United Nations with world federal government as an eventual goal.

Outstanding Delegates

Outstanding delegates at the convention included John Hersey, war correspondent and author of Hiroshima; Colgate Prentice of Williamsburg, Harvard student and President of Student Federalists, Inc.; Vernon Nash, author; Norman Cousins, editor of Saturday Review of Literature; and Harris Wafford, founder of Student Federalists, Inc., and author of the book, It's Up to Us.

Indians To Meet Wake Forest Here

Official Schedule Lists Five Home Encounters

William and Mary will face Wake Forest in Williamsburg next Fall, Athletic Director R. N. McCray announced yesterday as he released the official 1947 football schedule.

This was the last playing site which had to be selected after last week's announcement which stated that the V. M. I. game would take place at Cary Field, with the Washington and Lee contest scheduled for Roanoke.

Five Home Games

The decision means that five of the Indians' engagements will be played in Williamsburg, giving William and Mary students probably the best home slate in Tribe history. In addition to the Deacons and Keydets, North Carolina, Miami of Ohio and The Citadel will appear here.

The Braves will meet three foes in nearby cities, going to Norfolk for the Davidson tilt and facing Virginia Tech and Richmond in Richmond.

The Indian gridders will leave Virginia only when they journey to Boston on Oct. 25 to engage Boston University in the first of a two-game series. The second contest is set for 1948.

Originally scheduled for Friday night, Sept. 26, the Davidson game has been switched to Saturday afternoon, thus leaving the Tribe without any night contests.

6,000 More Seats

Since such an inviting home slate has been planned, McCray said that arrangements have been made to enlarge Cary Stadium. Six thousand permanent type bleachers will be installed directly behind the end zones.

"These seats will be so located that each will provide an advantageous view," McCray said. "We have checked fully into various types of bleachers and have arranged to buy the best available."

Miami of Ohio, coached by Sid Gillman, former Ohio State end, appears on the Braves' schedule for the first time. Wake Forest has not been faced in football since 1928, when the Tribe and the Deacons fought to a scoreless deadlock. Three other games have been played between the two

Braves Give Net Exhibition

Indoor tennis practice is now in its fourth week. Bad weather has kept the netters in Blow Gym beyond the expected time and with less than a month to go before the first match, the Braves have yet to hit the first ball on clay.

Last week's activities were featured by an exhibition given at Camp Lee by the three top-ranking Indian stars. In a one-set singles encounter, Garner Larned trimmed Fred Kovaleski, 6-4. Following this match Tut Bartz and Kovaleski teamed to defeat Larned and Pvt. Tom Molloy, Camp Lee's high-ranking southern netter, 6-3, 6-4. The exhibition was played in the Camp Lee armory with the temperature hovering around 30 degrees F. Despite the cold, the boys played good tennis and entertained the shivering audience.

Indoor Tourney

After the exhibition, Kovaleski left for New York to compete in the National Indoor Tennis Tournament. Among the entrants in this tourney are Jack Kramer, Bill Talbert, Don McNeill and other first tenner's. Although he wasn't seeded, Kovaleski was placed in the first eight in the draw by virtue of his No. 21 national ranking.

Other members of the squad continued plugging away at stroke production and service practice.

DICK GALLAGHER

Gallagher Named Diamond Mentor

Dick Gallagher, director of the Tribe's basketball fortunes, yesterday was named coach of the William and Mary baseball team.

Practice began this afternoon for the Indians who will be seeking to defend successfully their Big Six title during the coming season.

First Appearance

Gallagher joined the coaching staff in 1940, serving as intramural director and freshman basketball mentor. His Papooses of 1941 romped through an undefeated season in '41 gaining 14 victories.

He entered the Navy in 1942, serving for three years and attaining the rank of lieutenant-commander. After his discharge in 1945, Gallagher, a native of Ironton, O., returned to William and Mary as head track coach and assistant to R. N. McCray in football.

Succeeds Holt

In taking over the management of the Tri-Color nine, he succeeds S. B. (Frosty) Holt who was here on a year's leave of absence from Carson-Newman College, of Tennessee.

An outstanding infielder at Kentucky Wesleyan, Gallagher was graduated in 1931 and entered professional baseball, holding down second base for Charleroi, Pa., of the Class C Middle-Atlantic league. He was slated to play for Lincoln, Neb., of the Nebraska State league during the following year but suffered a fractured leg early in the season and gave up baseball, going into coaching instead.

Kovaleski Gains In Net Tourney

Fred Kovaleski, one of the stars of the Indian net squad, chalked up two victories last week end in the National Indoor tennis tourney now being held in New York and was slated to play his third-round match today.

Kovaleski defeated Robert A. Arnold in straight sets on Thursday, by scores of 7-5, 6-2. On Friday he was extended by Marvin Kent but came out with a 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 triumph. Kovaleski and Phil Hanna made a good showing against Jack Kramer and Bob Falkenburg in a first-round doubles engagement on Saturday before bowing, 9-7, 6-4.

Lack of practice hurt Betty Coumbe, one of the mainstays of the W&M co-ed squad, as she lost to Mrs. Mary Jane Donally, 6-1, 6-0, in the first round of women's play on Saturday.

Kovaleski, in reaching the round of 16, joined a select company which includes Kramer, Falkenburg, Bill Talbert, Frank Shields, Ladislav Hecht and J. Gilbert Hall.

Redmen Blast Comets In Final Game, 58-37

William and Mary's unpredictable Indians turned on the power against the strong Washington and Lee Comets to rout them, 58-37, in a contest played at Blow Gym Saturday night.

The two teams matched point for point for 15 breathless minutes; then the big five for the night, Charley Teach, Johnny Green, Chet Giermak, Buddy Lex and Bob Holley began really to click. After George Pierson, the Comet standout, put W&L into the lead, 18-16, the Tribesmen put in 11 straight points to take the lead, a lead they held throughout the game. The half-time score was 29-26, W&M.

Second-Half Spurt

The Braves went literally crazy in the second half. They held the Comets, who have scored over 100 points in a game twice this year, to 11 points, while they were amassing a total of 29.

A standout for the Tribe couldn't be picked, they were all good. Green and Lex checked the high scoring forwards, while Teach, Holley and Giermak controlled the backboards. On the offensive Holley set up innumerable plays, Lex's long set shots clicked, Teach was excellent under the basket and Giermak, as usual, was the high scorer with 20 points.

All Trackmen To See Power

Coach Tom Power has announced that there will be a meeting Wednesday, Mar. 5 at 2 p. m. in the Blow Gym for all those men who are interested in taking part in varsity track and field events this year. Everyone interested in track is urged to report, as well as those men who were present at the first meeting.

52 Show Interest

During this last week 52 men signed up for practice. No specialized practice has started yet; the emphasis has been placed on conditioning and running.

Some of the men who have been practicing individually for several weeks are Clarence "Rocket" Roy who runs the 880 yard dash, Frank and Albert Rosenfeld and Francis McFall. Some promising new comers are Mac Staszkeski, Colin MacDonald, a low hurdles runner and Bernie Ricket. John Brown and Harry Wenning two of last year's stars will also be on hand. Brown took part in the high and broad jump, the pole vault and the dash; Wenning was last year's Southern Conference champion in the javelin throw.

Opens On Apr. 1

The schedule consisting of nine meets opens against Dartmouth on Apr. 1. The Tribe will take part in a Big Six tourney, the A. A. U. meet and the annual Southern Conference tournament.

Squaws Drop Two Matches To Farmville, R.P.I. Teams

Showing only spurts of clever or skillful playing, the William and Mary Squaws dropped their fourth and fifth consecutive matches to Farmville and Richmond Division. The games were played in Jefferson gym last week.

Farmville sent the Tri-Color coeds down to a 23-5 defeat. The visitors were behind at only one point of the game. This was at the beginning of the initial quarter when Millie Riddle, who did all the scoring for William and Mary, sank a free shot to put the Squaws ahead 1-0. Midway in the half, she added an overhead goal to her record.

Hancer Leads Scoring

Ann Hancer sent the Farmville girls ahead a little later with a long set shot. Parish sank a charity toss and Hancer added another accounted for ten more points to bring its total to 23. Riddle managed to eke out another set shot to give both her and the team their five point total.

R. P. I. Wins

In the game against R. P. I., the Tri-Color squad met defeat 31-24. Led by Gene Layne and Fran Allen, the Richmonders took an early 6-0 lead and maintained it thereafter.

Bouncing back from a 12-3 quarter time score, the William and Mary guards held a tight defense, allowing only two goals to be scored. The forwards settled down finally, and Jimmie Murphy led the parade with two set shots. Elaine Passow added two more and Jerry Jerow ended the rally with a two pointer. At halftime, the score looked a little better, 18-11.

Layne ran rampant in the second half, sinking five goals and adding a charity shot. Passow led the Squaws with eight points, with Murphy and Riddle each contributing two points apiece.

Future Tilts

This weekend the Squaws travel north for their last two contests. On Friday, Mar. 7, they will engage N. Y. U.; on the following day, they will meet the team from Manhattanville College.

Thus far the Squaws have had a very unsuccessful season, losing six games and winning none. Marked improvement in shooting and in working together should give the Tri-Color sextet a better chance to place some digits in its win column.

TRIBE TOPICS

By ED GRIFFIN

The long-delayed 1947 football schedule has finally appeared and seems to be one of the best prepared by William and Mary athletic officials in quite some time.

There are five home contests and these include two which promise to be the best of the season, the meetings with North Carolina and Wake Forest. Both are high-ranking outfits and can hold their own with most of the nation's best elevens.

This year's slate, like the 1946 card, lists eight Southern Conference foes but the '47 group is stronger. Wake Forest and Davidson replace Maryland and George Washington. The Deacons are much superior to Maryland, while Davidson, though not very strong, should at least be better than the impotent Colonials.

The strengthening of the slate indicates a step in the right direction. No team should be stronger than its schedule. Every opponent played ought to be able to furnish a good brand of competition. An excellent move for 1948, if it is possible, would be to drop such relatively weak foes as Davidson and Citadel, replacing them with Duke and North Carolina State.

Knute Rockne, who turned out some of the finest teams in history, used to warn against the practice of playing "breathers," games scheduled against inferior opponents with the object of resting one's own team. The coach who does this has everything to lose and nothing to gain. If one of these set-ups manages to pull an upset, the team it defeats suffers an immense loss of prestige and also a loss of cash customers.

Even if a team tramples its weaker enemy, the lack of competition may throw its attack so far off that two or three weeks will be needed to repair it. And during this period a team's major rivals can benefit by this letdown.

But we seem to have digressed. The other three home games list Citadel, V. M. I. and Miami of Ohio. The first two shouldn't prove too troublesome but Coach Sid Gillman, of the Redskins will bring to town a strong club, one of the best in the Buckeye Conference.

There will be two games in Richmond and one in Norfolk so the Indians will have nearly the equivalent of eight home contests. There will be few colleges which can offer such a program to its students.

One of the most wonderful features of this schedule is the

Notre Dame Ekes Out Victory Over Squaws

A last minute lay-up goal by Naomi Hromadka gave the Notre Dame sextet a close 18-16 victory over the William and Mary Squaws last Saturday afternoon in Jefferson gym.

Holding the lead until the last four minutes of the game, the Tri-Color combined a strong defense with a sparking forward trio. Elaine Passow gave the Squaws a 4-0 lead with a set shot followed by a neat lay-up goal. Rose Monaghan sank an overarm two-pointer for Notre Dame, which was promptly nullified by another lay-up shot by Millie Riddle.

Passow and Jimmie Murphy each contributed two more points in the first quarter to the Tri-Color cause. Monaghan worked her way through the home team's defense to lay up another two points, while Hromadka scored her first goal of the day on a long shot. Tight guarding on the part of both teams kept the scoring down to two points for each squad in the second quarter. Both defenses took their just toll of interceptions and captured rebounds.

Murphy and Monaghan escaped the guards once to bring the half time score to 12-8, the Squaws still holding a narrow lead.

Second Half Rally

In the second half, the Baltimore squad varied its shots and collected five goals. Working against an even tighter Notre Dame defense, the Tri-Color forwards could gather only four points. Murphy accounted for three of these with a lay-up shot in the third quarter and a charity toss in the final frame. Riddle added the other point with another free throw late in the fourth quarter.

Monaghan led the scoring for Notre Dame, sending in three goals in succession, good for six points. The last of these tallies came in the beginning of the fourth quarter and tied up the game at 14-14.

Last Minute Goal

Hromadka then sent a timely shot through the hoops to send Notre Dame into the lead for the first time, 16-14. Two more points by Riddle tied up the score again, but the last minute lay-up shot by Hromadka closed the scoring and gave the visitors their 18-16 victory.

schools, with William and Mary taking two.

Of the six teams returning from last year's slate, North Carolina was the lone conqueror of the Indians, winning 21-7 at Richmond. The official schedule:

- Sept. 20 — Miami of Ohio, here.
- Sept. 27 — Davidson at Norfolk.
- Oct. 4 — The Citadel, here.
- Oct. 11 — Virginia Tech at Richmond.
- Oct. 18 — North Carolina, here
- Oct. 25 — Boston University at Boston.
- Nov. 1 — Wake Forest, here.
- Nov. 8 — V. M. I., here (Homecoming).
- Nov. 15 — Washington and Lee at Roanoke.
- Nov. 27 — Richmond at Richmond.

Billy Palese, little William and Mary back, romped over the goal to give William and Mary its first defeat of Navy, as the Indians posted a 6-0 win over the Middies in 1932.

Intramurals

Sigma Pi, one of the pre-season favorites and still a definite threat, knocked Sigma Alpha Epsilon from the ranks of the unbeaten in the intramural basketball league by edging them out, 34-33. Anderson, dropping in six field goals and an equal number of charity tosses, sparked Sigma Pi throughout the contest.

Despite an early-season loss to Smart Boys, Old Dominion "B", by virtue of beating Go-Getters, is considered one of the top teams in the Independent Division. John Boyer, who the week before tallied 29 markers in a single game, again led his team's attack by scoring 10 points in a 25-19 win.

Pi Lambda Wins

In other games played during the week Pi Lambda Phi came from behind to beat Phi Kappa Tau 22-18, Sigma Rho added to its all winning record by topping Lambda Chi Alpha 54-23, Sigma Pi beat Theta Delta 39-13, Kappa Alpha defeated Phi Alpha 35-15, and Pi Kappa Alpha nosed out Kappa Sigma 20-17. In one of the closest games played to date, City Slickers had to go into over time before they could top Vets Dorm "C" 23-22.

In the handball tournament which is still in the first round of play, the following "name" players appear to be the ones for this year's entrants to knock off: Harvie Levine, Pi Lambda Phi, 1946 champion; Iver Brook, Pi Lambda Phi, runner-up in 1946; Bob Sherry, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, runner up in 1945; Steve Chipok, Sigma Rho, champ in 1942-43; and Don Ream, SAE, and Joe Rego, Sigma Rho, pre-war finalists. Newcomers with heavy backing are Tom Mikula, Moe Kish, Bill Shearin, and John Claver.

Harner and Crockett Get Two Positions For W&L

Chet Giermak, William and Mary's crack freshman center, was placed on the All-State basketball squad released Sunday by the Associated Press. Johnny Jorgensen and Charlie Teach received honorable mention in the balloting for the forward positions.

Giermak scored 366 points for the Indians as he led them to 14 victories in 26 starts, averaging slightly over 14 markers per game.

Two Spots For W & L

Washington and Lee's Blue Comets landed two spots. Co-captain

Harry Harner was put at one of the forward slots while Reggie Crockett, W&L center, gained the other.

Louis (Weenie) Miller, mainstay of the University of Richmond squad, and Chuck Noe, Virginia's ace, took over the guard positions. Noe is the only member of last year's team who was able to repeat.

Alpha Chi's Gain Finals

By JIMMIE MURPHY

Alpha Chi, winner in League B, will play Kappa Thursday, for the intramural championship, provided the latter defeats Chi O. If Kappa loses they will be involved in a three-way tie with Chi O and Gamma Phi.

Alpha Chi sewed up first place in League B by thumping Pi Phi, 30-23. Ellett, Coumbe Inc. again scored all of Alpha Chi's points registering 16 and 14 points respectively. Bev Owens kept Pi Phi in the fray by tallying 12 markers.

Chi O Upset

Seemingly out of the title race, Gamma Phi scored the upset of the season by knocking Chi Omega from the undefeated ranks by the score of 26-23. Led by little Martha Lamborn, the Gamma Phi's gained the advantage in the beginning and kept the Chi O's battling up-hill throughout the whole game. Jane Oblender continued to score and racked up 18 points before she was put out of the game on fouls. Fouling constantly from the starting whistle, Chi O played the last few minutes with only five players on the court.

Kappa remained the only undefeated team in League A by decisively trouncing Kappa Delta, 31-5. Millie Riddle led Kappa with 15 points but her team will lose her for the rest of the season.

absence of any two-bit service teams. Gone for good, we hope, are the days of such foes as Fort McClellan and the Richmond Army Air Base. They did the best they could but lack of experienced men and time to practice prevented them from exhibiting any sort of competition. It was a shame to charge admission.

Things seem to be looking up, however, and maybe before many years have passed if the school continues to expand, William and Mary will move into the front ranks of intercollegiate football.

ODDS AND ENDS

At last they've done it. W&M students will be privileged to take their pick of three sports events on Apr. 2. The Tribe will meet Dartmouth on that day in baseball, tennis and track. Only drawback is that students will be so busy leaving for spring vacation that they won't pay much attention to athletics . . . Shutouts in basketball are rare. In fact, they're practically non-existent, except in sorority play where anything can happen. Chi Omega's second team demonstrated this last week when they walloped Gamma Phi, 60-0 . . . Another X and horseshoe story: Ease, our athletic boss, boasts proudly that her Chi O third team is undisputed champion of their league, reason being that no other sorority has a third team . . . Fletcher Cox, who now washes his own shirts since the laundry swore vengeance for his recent feature, claims his Theta Delt squad had a rough time in a recent intramural fracas. Said Fletch, "If every foul committed by the two teams had been called, we'd be playing now" . . . Bill Pegram, undisputed pool champion of Taliaferro's A section, stated after a particularly satisfactory session at Jim's Emporium last Friday, "I think they ought to give letters for this."

because of a recent varsity ruling concerning eligibility. Although they put on a spurt in the last half, Theta couldn't erase the huge half-time advantage collected by KD as the latter eked out a 15-13 win. Tri Delt kept in the race by taking a 22-10 decision from Phi Mu. Dotsy Thedick garnered 11 points for the victors.

Second Teams Battle

In League X, composed of the second teams, Kappa captured two wins, one a 20-6 victory over Tri Delt, the other a 25-5 decision over Gamma Phi. Barbara Humphrey proved to be the big gun in these tilts scoring a total of 28 points.

Chi O's second string remained undefeated scoring decisive victories over two foes. Early in the week they gained a 25-10 decision against Tri Delt. Lead by Jeanne Ann Harrup, Margie Oak and Ginny Hardesty, who scored 24, 22

Close Game

The closest fray of the week proved to be the Theta-Tri Delt tilt which was won by Theta, 22-21. Although Janie Cornwell poured 20 points through the hoop, Tri Delt couldn't stop Theta which was led by Betty Kelley with 14 points.

In the dormitory loop Olivia

Gillespie and Harriet Hinman led Chandler to victory over Barrett, 39-26. Barrett again went down to defeat at the hands of Jefferson, 33-9. Pasco Keen tallied 17 markers for the victors.

SKIRTS in SPORTS

By BETTY BORENSTEIN

For those who expect two hundred words of gripes to follow, let them be reassured. This column will not throw raspberries at anyone this week... we like a change too, you see.

It was quite gratifying (heck! it was terrific!) to see so many students cheering the basketball game last Friday evening. Despite the gruesome fact that the Squaws met with an overwhelming 23-5 defeat, the game served to prove that there is an interest in coed sports.

Male Interest

Much of the audience was composed of male students. Whether they came out of interest, curiosity or just plain nothing else to do, they were welcome sights. To show our gratitude for their presence, the team would like to inform them that Farmville's ace forward — the infamous number Two — can and did smile. After all, she had reason enough to — she was high scorer for the evening.

The game with Notre Dame the following day showed for the first time that the Squaws can work together. Losing the tilt in the last minute was a heart-breaker. The game might easily have been saved if the team had not lost all semblance of calmness and assurance. The Squaws should have won; they threw away their own game.

Final Games

This weekend, the team travels north for its final games. The members will take with them the bitter lesson learned last Saturday. All along they have had the spirit; now they seem to have the skill. Let's hope the two combine to bring the Squaws victories in their final matches.

Balfour Club Will Present Play At Meeting Tomorrow

Members of the Balfour-Hillel club will meet tomorrow, Mar. 5, in the Dodge room at 8 p. m.

The highlight of the meeting, according to Stanley Mervis, president of the group, will be a dramatic presentation entitled "You." Leatrice Levin, cultural chairman, and Buddy Weintraub will direct the program. Refreshments will be served.

Lois Willis, Student Manager, Aids Squaw Basketball Squad

By JANE OBLENDER

Student head of varsity basketball is vivacious, charming Lois Willis. She was promoted to this office after having served as head of intramurals in her sophomore year.

"I never did managerial work and never expected to," said Lois with a toss of her head, "but, here I am."

Her obligations to the "Bill and Mary" girls' varsity team started last September when she began corresponding with other schools to schedule games. Her main job is trying to secure rooms for visiting teams.

Of favorite duties, there is accompanying the varsity members on trips to other schools and being called chaperone. Lois gets a big kick out of entertaining bus drivers on these trips by taking them to dinner.

Tucking people into bed and making sure the lights are out before midnight is one of her minor pleasures.

"I enjoy managing teams," said Lois, "but when the players rise against me and chase me all over the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond yelling 'mother,' it's time to resign."

Training rules officially went into effect in December, while varsity playing began Feb. 8. Lois states that the team has good spirit and will fight on to the end.

Boston U. Trounces Indians By 62-45

Paced by Sam Leighton, who racked up 30 points, Boston University defeated William and Mary, 62-45, at the Boston Garden last Tuesday.

Seven of Leighton's field goals came in succession in the second half. With about eight minutes left to go, Boston led by only 42-38 but their ace forward soon increased the margin to 18 points and erased the last hope of the Indians.

Chet Giermak, the Tribe's outstanding candidate for All-State honors, was top man for the visitors with 14 markers. Bob Holley and Charlie Teach collected ten and nine, respectively.

The loss was the twelfth of the season for Dick Gallagher's quintet in 25 starts.

Green Discloses Plot Of Pageant

Paul Green, author of Lost Colony, has announced briefly the details of his play to be produced at the Jamestown Theatre, Matoaka Lake.

"The action of the play will concern the lives of our early forefathers who established our country in the 17th century," Mr. Green stated. He described the play as "depicting the lives of Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, Pocahontas and others who helped establish democracy."

Two Novel Features

Two novel features of the play have been listed by Mr. Green. College students will open the play by appearing on an empty stage and discussing the ideas of our forefathers living in the 17th century. The other feature of the play will be the arrival of Indians by canoe from across the lake, disembarking immediately upon the stage which has been built out into the water.

LOIS WILLIS

Their main obstacle is that they have too few tall girls.

Her big anticipation is the coming week end to be spent in New York with the team. "I can hardly wait," she gleefully announces, "parties, chuckles, and Miss Barksdale."

Aspiring Amateur Jockeys

By FLETCHER COX

Throughout the winter months, the only outdoor sport carried on by a few of the old school of Prussian die-hards has been jockeying. To the more frivolous element on the campus, this may seem to be a waste of time during the winter months when women make such a point of concealing all but face, arms and legs under coats of all colors, shapes and sizes. There is more truth than poetry in such an observation — what, then, has encouraged such devotion to duty?

From one of the jockeys, it was ascertained that the only ones who were to be found on the corner these cold days were the professionals, as opposed to the amateurs who merely make juvenile attempts at jockeying when the weather permits. It was from one of the professionals that it was learned that there is a science to the art of jockeying, much as there is a science to almost everything else under the sun.

Aspirants Discouraged

Not all who aspire to the heights may be jockeys. The first stipulation is that the jockey be inoffensive in his admirations of the fair sex. That is to say, his whistle must be cultivated to the point where it will not offend the object. Secondly, the eyes must be trained in the science of jockeying. Amateurs merely ogle at each woman in a bevy which may be passing at the time — a quick once over. The trained professional immediately picks out the most pleasing specimen, and dwells at great length upon the chosen one, neglecting all others in favor thereof. In this operation, the carefully trained eye never allows itself to deviate from the mission of admiring the wonders of nature.

Winter Training

Therein lies the secret of the apparent futility of the professionals' adhering to College Corner in spite of the winter winds whipping up and down the Duke of Gloucester Street. The eye must be kept trim. Passing objects must be ogled throughout the year, so that, when the spring comes, the retina of the orb will be in a receptive state, and valuable time will not be lost in the attempts to re-train the muscles which control the eyes. "Side vision" must be supervised, a situation which may easily slip out of control. Constant care must be taken of the eyes to insure that "side vision" is cut off completely during the periods of active jockeying. Some professionals can keep their "side vision" dormant for several hours at a time — the

Masquers Offer Award For Play

An original three-act play written by a college author will be awarded a $100 prize in a contest sponsored by the Nebraska Masquers of the University of Nebraska.

This honorary society has elected to sponsor a national contest to encourage new and perhaps unknown authors in the play-writing field.

Entries for the contest are due on or before Aug. 1, 1947. All plays submitted must be original, but two or more authors may collaborate according to contest rules. Eligibility is limited to plays which have not been produced before the closing date of the contest.

Entry blanks may be obtained from members of the English department.

Solomon Gives Deadline For Next Royalist Material

The deadline for submitting material for the next Royalist has been changed from Mar. 5 to Mar. 12. Editor Jack Solomon has expressed a particular need for short stories and lecture leavenings of teachers.

Contributions may be placed in the Royalist box in Marshall-Wythe or given to a member of the Royalist staff.

Attorney To Present Talk At Business Forum Meet

Harry A. Toulmin of Toulmin and Toulmin, patent attorneys, will speak at the third meeting of the business forum, tomorrow at 4 p. m. in Rogers 212.

Mr. Toulmin will discuss "Building New Businesses" and will be introduced by Joseph E. Berman, who graduated from William and Mary in 1940 and is now associated with Mr. Toulmin.

Army Veteran

A former Army colonel, Mr. Toulmin is a veteran of World Wars I and II. He holds the Distinguished Service Medal and was a member of the Army Pearl Harbor Board, authoring its report.

State Department Soon To Release Williamsburg Film

The United States Department of State will soon distribute the color movie "Eighteenth Century Life in Williamsburg, Virginia" throughout the world as a part of its cultural and informational program, according to Edward P. Alexander, director of education for Colonial Williamsburg.

Already seen by more than 1,500,000 Americans, the four-reel movie depicts a typical day in the life of an 18th century craftsman. It was filmed in Williamsburg in 1942-43 by the Eastman Kodak Company with many present-day residents of this city taking the roles of colonial inhabitants.

Foreign Language Versions

Sixty prints of the film will be made available to the State Department, and from these more than 15 foreign language versions will be made and distributed throughout the world. An audience of over 7 million see the film programs sponsored by the Department each month.

A hundred prints of the film were purchased by Colonial Williamsburg after its completion, and made available through the Eastman offices in Rochester for distribution on loan to schools, colleges, museums, clubs and study groups. The movie is shown here regularly three nights a week as part of the program of special events presented for visitors.

Dr. Alexander will also show the film in connection with his lecture before the New York Historical Society, meeting in New York City on Mar. 4.

Marsh Holds Position As Commerce Head

Dr. Charles F. Marsh, professor of economics and business administration, was recently elected president of the Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce.

Elected to his new office on Feb. 6, Dr. Marsh begins his second year on the Board of Directors. In describing his duties, Dr. Marsh read the purpose of the United States Chamber of Commerce, "Men, working together, to make their community a better place to live and make a living." It is Dr. Marsh's hope that the Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce will attempt to live up to that definition.

Birnie Elected Secretary

Rux Birnie has been elected executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Laurence Leonard, head of the news release bureau, was recently appointed representative of the college on the Board of Directors by President John E. Pomfret.

Dennis Wrong To Address Marshall-Wythe Seminar

Dennis Wrong of Columbia University will speak on the subject of Basic Personality Structure and National Psychology on Friday, Mar. 7, at 4 p. m. in Rogers 212. His lecture will be the second in the Marshall-Wythe Seminar Series.

Students and faculty members are invited to attend the seminar sessions and participate in the discussion, stated Dr. W. W. Moss, head of the department of government.

Jockeys

record being 2:21.5, held by Eskey, every jockey's idol — and no professional would stoop to jockeying when his "side vision" is in operation, thereby distracting the mind.

As in most other trades, the professional jockey must have his own equipment, over which he hovers as an anxious mother. His eye-cup is usually of agate — only amateurs have been known to use common glass eye-cups — and is hand engraved with his initials. True devotees notch their eye-cups for every mission accomplished. Ordinary eye-wash, bottled by pharmaceutical houses, will not suit the professional. Even as the pipe smoker, the professional blends his own eye-wash, mixing into the basic ingredient of super-refined boric acid, myriads of waters, lotions and powders. Professionals guard their formulae with a jealousy over which many women would swoon were it only directed toward them.

AUSO Represented

Naturally, old professional jockeys keep their trade secrets to themselves in efforts to stave off invasion by amateurs. Unions of professionals have been formed, the most famous being Amalgamated Union of Skilled Ogiers, of which Local 49 has been active in Williamsburg.

Tryouts for the Local will be held during the first week in April, on Jockey Corner. "All who are interested in joining, and who can certify to at least five years of past experience, are urged to apply," stated George Herkimer, head of local 49, who flexed his coronae while speaking. "However," he continued, "I cannot hold forth much hope for most of the amateurs whom I have seen on the corners here. Too much frivolity — too many amateurs forsaking the art in favor of settling down to one woman. A deplorable situation." Prospective applicants have been warned by Mr. Herkimer to be careful of the dust which is being raised by the winds on the campus and in the town. "One speck of dust, in the wrong place," he claimed, "could very easily cause the temporary inactivity of the pupil of the eye; and, since most jockeys are highly sensitive, this could only result in their disqualification from this year's tryouts."

Juniors Will Sponsor Annual Barefoot Ball

Plans for the junior class annual Barefoot ball to be held on Mar. 22, were discussed by members of the class at a meeting held on Wednesday night, Feb. 26.

Jean Morgan, secretary, announced that the following committee chairmen have been elected: Corky Wampler, entertainment; Joyce Wilck, refreshments; Nora Spann, decorations; and Leonard Seligman, publicity.

May 3 has been selected as the date for the picnic given to the faculty by the Junior class.

"Dues are coming in very slowly, and those who haven't paid will be charged for the picnic," said Jean.

IRC Elections Name Cartwright And Fritz

Bob Cartwright was elected President, and John Fritz, Secretary-Treasurer, of the International Relations club, at the club's meeting in the Apollo room of Phi Beta Kappa hall, Tuesday evening, Feb. 25.

Cartwright succeeds Peggy Darby, who graduated in February, and Fritz takes the position vacated by Cartwright. An invitation to a conference of International Relations clubs at Randolph Macon College, Ashland, Va., was read. The club decided to defer naming of delegates until the next meeting, which, Bob Cartwright announced, will be held at 8 p. m. tonight.

Psychology Club To Aid In Recreation Of Patients

Barbara Grant, president of the psychology club, has announced that the club is sponsoring a new project in which each member aids in the recreation of patients of Eastern State Hospital. Miss Hazel Grant, social worker, will supervise this program.

Second semester sophomores planning to major in psychology have been invited to attend a meeting Thursday, Mar. 13, to join the club.

Harwell To Speak On Birds' Music

Charles A. Harwell, National Audubon Society lecturer, will speak on Music of the Out-of-Doors, on Thursday evening, Mar. 6, at 8 p. m. in Washington 200. Dr. A. Pelzer Wagener, special events chairman, has announced.

Coming here through the co-operation of the National Audubon Society, he will also bring a motion picture symphony of the American wilderness. This will be presented in color.

A native of California, Harwell was educated at the University of California. He was park naturalist of the National Park Service at Yosemite from 1929 to 1940, when he joined the Audubon staff. Since that time he has been engaged in the promotion of a broad and constructive wild-life program.

Landrum To Add Names To Special Privileges List

Dr. Grace W. Landrum, dean of women, has announced that the names of additional women students for the special privileges list will be issued just as soon as incomplete grades can be cleared through the office of the registrar.

The names of Eva Kafka, Dolores Jean Leven and Jane Cornwell were unintentionally omitted from the dean's list printed in last week's FLAT HAT.

Music Club Plans Program Of Light Classical Music

Ellie Westbrook, president of the Music club has announced that the club will sponsor outdoor concerts of light classical music in front of Phi Beta Kappa every Friday from 6 to 8 p. m., this spring. The date of the first concert will be announced in the FLAT HAT.

Wally Heatwole Holds Record As Basketball Winner

By JOHN ROTHBERT

This is Wallace Roy Heatwole, the "five by five" super politician, business "ad" major, member of ODK, the Fraternity Association, the Student Voice Committee, president of Pi Kappa Alpha, and believer in a 90 per cent social life.

Interviewing Wally is actually a simple feat. Merely question 27 people who have just seen him "a few minutes ago," then pursue him 13 laps around the indoor track, lose him in clouds of steam in the shower and, after fighting your way through 23 Pi K A's and at least one representative from every other organization on campus, finally push him into a phone booth and sit on his lap, which should give you at least 60 seconds for uninterrupted conversation.

Wally, born in Waynesboro, Va., entered William and Mary in 1941 as a sophomore transfer from the University of Virginia. In his first year spent his time, playing baseball and being assistant Sports editor of The FLAT HAT and assistant manager of basketball. In his junior year he contented himself with being varsity manager of baseball and basketball, sports editor of The FLAT HAT, sports advisor to the Colonial Echo, and writing a column entitled "Pow-wow with Wally." In his spare time he served as the Associated press sports representative on the campus. When the Japanese started the little unpleasantness, Wally joined the Navy and was commissioned an ensign at the Columbia Midshipman's school, beginning a career in which he "put more time in as an ensign than any other guy in the Navy." Finally ending up in a Fleet Marine Unit, Scouts and Raiders, he participated in several invasions, such as the little skirmish at Okinawa, and was discharged Aug. 15, 1945, a lieutenant j. g., having collected a Presidential Letter of Commendation, a Presidential Citation, and seven battle stars.

Scourge of W & L

The history of the game of basketball will forever ring with the name Heatwole. He occupies the unique position of having been the only non-player ever to win a game without getting on the court. It all happened back in 1943 in a little game at Lexington. William and Mary and Washington and Lee were staging the sort of game that causes prostration among the spectators. The score was tied, with only seconds to play. Then, Lester Hooker, W&M ace, got a foul shot. Pandemonium reigned and crowds surged up in front of the three official scorers, one of whom was manager Heatwole.

Hearing a mighty roar, Heatwole peeped between the knees of a nine-foot mountaineer just in time to see the net still quivering. So, having complete confidence in Hooker's ability, he immediately marked down a point for William and Mary, which went unquestioned by the other score keepers who had seen nothing. The game, since Hooker had actually missed his shot, ended in what everyone but Wally thought was a tie. But the point had been entered in the official record book and could not be changed, so Heatwole scored a victory for William and Mary. He left the W&L campus under armed guard and, needless to say, has never returned.

Wally, intent upon trying to be "the oldest living student on campus," plans on entering the William and Mary Law School upon graduation. Those who know Wally Heatwole, those who have heard him speak, whether in student mass meetings, broadcasting football games, or in bull sessions, have no doubt that he will succeed in any field he chooses.

Honor Committee To Aid Freshmen

In an attempt to make the Honor System better understood by entering freshmen, the Honor councils of the college have begun a program to encourage development of Honor systems in Virginia high schools.

Letters have been written to principals of Class A and Class B high schools in Virginia, inquiring whether an honor system now exists in each school and whether the school is interested in installing or fostering one.

was also "one of the boys." A sturdy six-footer, he looked quite youthful in his tan sport attire, complemented by a daring red and blue bow tie.

Vronsky and Babin were both born in Russia; he in Moscow, she in the southern Crimea. "Vitya is rebel, and I am a damyankee," explained Mr. B.

They met in Berlin, were married in London, and, after coming to America, became citizens. One can detect a slight Russian accent, although they have mastered the English language.

Army Career

Victor Babin's career in the Army is quite a story in itself. His talented hands, which move so deftly over the keyboard, were used to mix batter and to pummel dough, as a lackey in a quarter-master bakery at Camp Lee, Va. Soon he was transferred to a band-training unit, later going over to General Arnold's famed air force band as pianist.

This year's tour is the first since his discharge from the service. Last week, the team of Vronsky and Babin celebrated the tenth anniversary of their annual concert tours.

Greatest Tour

"Incidentally," pointed out Mr. Babin, "ours is the greatest tour ever booked for a piano team. The concert at William and Mary is the fifty-eighth of seventy-eight scheduled appearances this season, an unprecedented number."

Vronsky, mission completed, returned to the scene. Seeking one ray of sunshine, your reporter asked her opinion of Williamsburg.

"Very nice," retorted the lady virtuoso. "It's like a museum, and the people in it, museum pieces." (It is hoped that she referred to the costumed employees of the Restoration.)

With the concert only three hours off, Vronsky and Babin felt the need of rest, and asked to be excused. As the pair walked toward the Phi Beta portals, Victor Babin called back, "I'm afraid you haven't had much of an interview."

The reporter wondered.

College Offers Safety Instruction

Water safety instruction began at the college yesterday. The course is open to those who have Senior Life Saving certificates and are 19 years of age.

The first 15 hours of instruction will be given by Miss Virginia Till and David Strubinger. They are experienced not only in Water safety instruction but have served on the staff of the Aquatic school at Camp Letts, Ledgewater, Md.

The first lesson of the course was given yesterday in Blow Pool. Other class hours were arranged at this time. The second half of the course will be given in five classes of three hours each, from Apr. 21-25. These classes will be instructed by a representative of the American Red Cross.

Water safety instructors are trained not only in life-saving technique but also in water accident-prevention, use of small craft, torpedo bouys; in addition, the candidates must pass advanced swimming and diving tests.

The course is being offered not only to students of the college, men and women, but also to residents of neighboring communities. Students will be accepted into the course until Mar. 11. Further information may be obtained from the local Red Cross office or from either of the departments of physical education.

Raymond Massey Visits Restoration

Recent visitors to the Colonial Capitol, were the famed "Lincoln of the films," Raymond Massey, and his wife.

The news of their arrival at the Inn caused considerable confusion at The FLAT HAT office, and two reporters were sent scurrying down to interview the notable. After several unsuccessful attempts to corner the stage and screen star, the reporters returned frustrated and empty handed.

However, a student waiter at the Travis House, Owen Elliot, talked to Mr. Massey, and discovered that he was here for the week end, but was returning to New York City Mar. 1, for a broadcast. According to Owen, Mr. Massey and his wife were investigating the possibilities of enrolling their daughter in William and Mary. Their daughter is now a student at Concord Academy, Concord, Mass.

The two reporters talked to Mr. Massey briefly, but only before he took his tour of Williamsburg. Therefore, it was impossible for the film star to make any comments on Williamsburg or the College, as this was his first visit to the historic town. He will return to Williamsburg on Mar. 8, to meet his wife, who will remain here this week, and then the couple will return to their home in New York City.

Eta Sigma Phi Plans National Convention

William and Mary will be the scene of the first post-war national convention of Eta Sigma Phi. Scheduled for Apr. 3 and 4, the convention will be held in Phi Beta Kappa hall.

Only tentative plans have been made for the program of the meeting, according to Barbara Lamont, president of the local chapter.

Purpose Of Fraternity

The honorary ancient languages fraternity, which has as its purpose the promotion of interest in the classical study of the art and literature of Greece and Rome, has approximately 50 chapters on campuses throughout the country.

Officers of Omega chapter at William and Mary are Barbara Lamont, president; Joe Buchanan, vice president; Joy Wrigley, secretary; and Marcia Magill, treasurer.

Greta Matson Begins Dr. Landrum's Portrait

Miss Greta Matson of New York has begun work on a portrait of Dr. Grace Warren Landrum, dean of women at the college.

The portrait will be completed in approximately two weeks, and will be presented to the college as a gift of the graduating class of 1947. Bert Rance, president of the senior class, announced that presentation will be made at the class's formal luncheon in June.

Mortar Board To Begin Handbook Publication

Mortar Board members have resumed publication of the booklet designed for freshmen women entering William and Mary next September.

Published for the first time in two years, this handbook has been copied from similar ones used by other colleges and contains information about the customs, types of social events, and suggestions for suitable clothing and dormitory equipment.
